Audiovisual set up

Your presentation session will have data projection, lectern & microphone, and a clicker to advance your slides. Your presentation will be run from a computer at the AV control desk at the rear of the room. A foldback monitor in front of the stage will allow you to view your presentation, showing what is on the main screen. It will not be able to run in notes mode. A timer on the foldback monitor will show the remaining time for your presentation. Please stick strictly to your allocated time. Presenters will not be able to present from their own laptop on the stage.

Please create your presentation in widescreen (16:9) format (please view next page for information).
